SAYNOPHOBIA BOOKLET

- 1 • self awareness, injustice
- 2 • standing up and speaking up for others
- 3 • the concept of behaving righteously

activity

This booklet's content should assist teachers in raising cultural awareness and beginning to challenge established perceptions of various cultures in their work.

The relevance and usefulness of the practices collected in this booklet is the most important aspect. We wanted to gather existing, effective xenophobia and forum theatre practices.

All partners involved in this project decided on the best 30 practices to include. Multiple factors were considered, including the diversity of best practices, new methods presented, innovative potential, weaknesses, and lessons learned during implementation.

We developed criteria for selecting good practices to ensure the quality of this product:

Effectiveness: The degree to which a measure or approach is informed or rooted in prior research or experience.

Efficiency: Measure/approach with in-place quality assurance processes, including information on indicators, methods, or tools used throughout implementation.

Internal or external evaluation results: A measurable/applicable approach that has demonstrated its feasibility in the target group.

Some evidence of long-term viability: Measure/approach that has been used for a while and has received funding or other support (from a variety of stakeholders) for a few years in the future.
